Jason Sabo is the founder of Frontera Strategy. Jason has led and assisted efforts to pass legislation and secure appropriations at state capitols across the country for more than two decades. Jason knows the issues and politics important to nonprofits and philanthropy, and he knows how to win. He holds a master's degree in History from Indiana University.

A native Houstonian, Amanda Shelton fell in love with the work of Community Action after graduating from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University.

Currently, as Executive Director at the Texas Association of Community Action Agencies (TACAA), a membership organization serving as the collective network of public and private entities, Amanda is enthusiastically moving Texas' community action network in one direction, forward. A boxing enthusiast, she sees the diversity and unwavering determination as this network's 1-2 punch, a powerful combination. For over 50 years, TACAA has been an integral part of the War of Poverty, providing a unified voice for its network in advocacy, policy, best practices and legislative issues. Amanda holds an MBA and BS from Florida A&M University's School of Business & Industry.

Michelle Morehead is the Executive Director of Community Services of Northeast Texas (CSNT). Her passion for helping people began at a very young age. Dedicated and experienced, she has a proven track record of leading impactful initiatives and programs to serve the needs of our communities. With a strong background in strategic planning, fundraising, and community engagement, she is committed to driving positive change and improving the lives of those we serve. Her leadership skills, coupled with a passion for social justice and advocacy, have allowed Michelle to effectively collaborate with stakeholders, build strong relationships, and mobilize resources to address critical issues facing our communities. She is driven by a deep sense of purpose and a desire to make a meaningful difference in the lives of others. Michelle holds many certifications and will soon graduate with her BAAS from Texas A&M - Texarkana.
